The Other Language

Those who speak it most eloquently use Nikon

Today, the photographer seldom limits himself to a disinterested record of what he sees. He goes further and leaves the mark of his personality and involvement on his pictures. What he seeks to say can be said with images rather than words. The medium is the camera, and most of those who are particularly fluent in this, the other language, use Nikon. "FROM THE GEORGE EASTMAN HOUSE COLLECTION"

The exhibition "From the GEH Collection" is a selection of 100 images from the extensive archives of George Eastman House, Rochester, New York. This exhibition was recently assembled to illustrate the vast range of picture concepts that the George Eastman House pursues in order to facilitate its primary responsibility; to provide insight and perspective into the visual media.

To the viewer of the 58th Salon of Photographic Art this special show provides a strong element of contrast to the Salon photography presented in the other galleries. "From the GEH Collection" is a historical survey of photographic techniques and styles as employed by photographers, artists, and historians during the last 100 years.

The imagery begins with the fads of the late 1800's, carte-de-visite and stereo views. Selections from the Alvin Langdon Coburn archives and the Gertrude Kasebier collection illustrate turn of the century pictorial photography in platinum and gum prints. Photo journalism is represented by Aaron Siskind's "Most Crowded Block, 1939" series. Along with other historical prints are records of the western United States by William Henry Jackson and Eadweard J. Muybridge. Muybridge's experiments with animal locomotion are also included. Rounding out the show are the more abstract works of Brassai's "Transmutations" and the colorful screen-print collages by Eduardo Paolozzi.

The Photographic Section expects that the viewer will find this show not only visually exciting but an informative insight into the broad capabilities of the photographic medium.

IN APPRECIATION

The Photographic Section wishes to thank the Academy of Science and Art of Pittsburgh for their generous support of our Salon. We especially want to thank Mr. Leon Arkus, Director of the Museum of Art, Carnegie Institute, for his assistance in presenting this show.

The Pittsburgh Salon wishes to express appreciation to the Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania, Inc.

What? 140 slides in one tray

Kodak has developed a new slide tray for the Kodak Carousel projectors—to hold 140 slides in cardboard or plastic mounts up to 1/16-inch thick!

That's nearly twice as many as the regular 80-slide Carousel trays—and more than any other projector tray!

More slides to the tray means fewer tray changes. Compact storage, too.

The new 140-slide tray works with all these Carousel projector models: 600, 650, 700, 750, 760, 800, 850, and the top-of-the-line 860.

One 140-slide tray now comes with each new Carousel projector—a “plus” added to all the famous features of dependability, easy operation, easy tray change and storage, brilliant screen pictures, wide choice of lenses, and special remote control and automatic focusing on some models.

Try the new 140-slide tray on a new Kodak Carousel projector today. It may be time for you to make a change, and bring your “slide showmanship” up to date.
